

Junior Style Stars Contest 2007/2008

Last Updated Sunday, 01 June 2008

This year, the Frederick School of Cosmetology participated in the Junior Style Stars National Hair Competition Contest. This student only competition allows students across the country to submit their best efforts to a national panel of industry experts for review. Prizes associated with this competition include cash awards, industry trips, one-on-one training with industry icons and more! Cerissa McKinley and Adeola Mitchell represented FSC in this year's competition. To learn more about the competition, visit the Junior Style Stars website.
